Version 1.0. For Errata & FAQ: fabulaultima.com

Welcome to the Fabula Ultima Bonus Collection!

This booklet compiles a total of seven different bonus contents, which were released as physical gifts or free digital downloads between 2021 and 2024. They range from additional Classes, to new Heroic Skills, to Quirks, and even adversaries; for this occasion, and thanks to the support shown during the 2025 Fabula Ultima Kickstarter campaign, they have all been revised, improved, and enriched with new illustrations!

USING THESE BONUS CONTENTS

The decision of whether to include one or more of these options in your campaign is something your group must discuss together. The following advice can prove helpful:

- ♦ The Classes introduce unique thematic or gameplay concepts that might not be a good fit for all groups: the Ace of Cards relies on a physical card deck and can generate very unlikely (potentially anticlimactic) effects, while the Necromancer carries a... unique perspective on soul energy and the ways it can be wielded, which is further reinforced by its Heroic Skills. Both Classes have been partially revised to bring them more in line with standard Fabula Ultima Classes in terms of power and flexibility, but they remain unique and peculiar – which is to say, they might not fit a certain story or group.
- ♦ The Halloween Quirks are designed for a unique and somewhat unserious campaign, where monsters aren't all that scary. They deeply influence the overall tone of your game.
- ♦ Halloween Heroic Skills are largely fine for the vast majority of campaigns, both in terms of tone and power level.
- ♦ The Arcana found in Arcane Whispers are more complex and unique than those provided by the Core Rulebook, but that's exactly their charm: they will be suitable for any Arcanist who seeks more variety or detailed and specific mechanics from their summoned entities.
- ♦ The adversaries provided (Carmilla, Typhos, and Zuccaborg) can be used in any campaign where they fit thematically, making any adjustments needed to better suit the Player Characters' abilities (for instance, altering their Affinities so that they are all relevant).

Regardless, it would be wise to treat these options as “semi-official”, in that they take some risks and experiment with mechanics beyond the tighter boundaries of the Core Rulebook and other official mainline books. Yet, if you're not afraid of some unique interactions, they can prove very rewarding in play!

BONUS CONTENTS SO FAR

Below you can find a brief history of Fabula Ultima's bonus contents so far.

ZUCCABORG, THE ARISEN

The very first bonus content, this boss saw its digital release for Halloween 2021, shortly after Fabula Ultima's launch, and also marks the first time a full profile for a boss made of multiple parts was released.

TYPHOS, BOREAL QUEEN

Another boss, this time released during the 2021 Winter Holidays. She left her mark as one of the most challenging and brutal adversaries we ever made.

A GIFT TO DIE FOR

The first printed bonus, released during Lucca Comics & Games, and written to celebrate Halloween 2022. It introduced the Necromancer, a Class whose Skills were inspired by famous metal songs, and Carmilla, a two-phase boss. Changes to the Necromancer have been minimal, mostly ensuring the Class can be mastered smoothly even by characters with no access to spells.

A HOLIDAY GIFT FROM EDGAR

Published during the 2022 Winter Holidays, this bonus introduced playtest rules for equipment crafting, alongside a bevy of new item Qualities. The former were revised and officialized within the Natural Fantasy Atlas, while the latter became part of the Game Master's Toolkit; thus, this bonus is not featured here.

ACE OF CARDS

Released as our 2023 April Fools bonus during Modena PLAY, this Class quickly became a fan-favorite, despite its experimental and often unbalanced design. This revision keeps all the flavor of the original – including the use of a physical 30-card deck – but changes some of the Skills and effects to curb the more exploitable strategies and facilitate a wider amount of synergies.

ONE HELL OF A BONUS CONTENT

Published in 2023 during Lucca Comics & Games, this was our second Halloween bonus. It introduced a variety of unique Quirks designed to evoke atmospheres similar to that of the Disgaea series. This content has seen minimal revisions.

ARCANE WHISPERS

Released during Gen Con 2024, this bonus content featured ten new Arcana, with more intricate and complex designs than those in the Core Rulebook. This content, too, has seen minimal revisions here.

HEROES OF OCCULT

The most recent bonus content, published during Lucca Comics & Games 2024 and once again Halloween-themed. It introduced fourteen new Heroic Skills, many of which were fairly experimental and whose effects have been revised or slightly tweaked for this collection.

ACE OF CARDS

ALSO: Deckmancer, Destiny Duelist, High Roller

*In response,
I activate my hidden card!*

Aces of Cards make use of special decks to perceive the constant fluctuations in the stream of souls. Each deck is inextricably connected to its user and reflects their taste and personality. By drawing specific combinations at the right moment, an Ace of Cards manipulates magical energy to produce supernatural effects.

In some worlds, Aces of Cards duel against each other using their personal decks, in a quest for glory or in order to obtain precious artifacts.

- ♦ When did you first manifest your magic powers?
- ♦ Are you cold and perceptive, or brash and lively? What does your deck look like?
- ♦ What was the most unfortunate event in your life? What did you learn from it?
- ♦ How do you combine your deck with your other abilities?

ACE OF CARDS FREE BENEFITS

- ♦ Permanently increase your maximum Hit Points or Mind Points by 5 (your choice).

ACE OF CARDS SKILLS

DOUBLE OR NOTHING

Before you perform a Check, you may declare double or nothing. If you do, until the end of that Check, any dice you roll that show an even number are treated as if that number was doubled, and other dice you roll are treated as showing a 1.

HIGH OR LOW

[+5]

When you resolve a set with Magic Cards, if it includes a joker and/or a 7, you deal [SL] extra damage until the start of your next turn; if it includes a joker and/or a 1, all damage you suffer is reduced by [SL] until the start of your next turn (before Affinities); if it doesn't include any joker, 1, or 7, you recover [SL × 2] Hit Points.

MAGIC CARDS

You gain a deck, a hand and a discard pile (see next page).

During a conflict, you may use an action and spend up to [10 + (SL × 5)] Mind Points (minimum 10). If you do, discard and resolve 1 card from your hand for every 5 MP spent this way (to a maximum of 5 cards; these cards form a set). After you resolve the effect of the set (if any), draw that many cards.

When you hit one or more enemies with an attack during your turn, you may discard up to [SL + 1] cards. If you do, draw that many cards.

TRAP CARD

After an enemy you can see resolves an Attack, Objective, Skill, or Spell action, you may discard up to (SL + 1) cards that are jokers or whose suit corresponds to a damage type based on the enemy action: ice (Attack), fire (Objective), earth (Skill), or air (Spell). If you do, draw that many cards; then you may perform the Spell action for free, casting a spell with a total Mind Point cost equal to or lower than (SL × 5) (you must still pay its MP cost) and you cannot use this Skill again until the start of your next turn.

MANAGING THE DECK

Your deck is an actual deck of cards that you can assemble however you prefer, provided their backs are identical and you follow the restrictions below:

- ♦ The deck contains exactly 30 cards: 2 jokers, plus 28 cards divided into 4 types, called suits; for instance, in a standard poker deck the suits are clubs (♣), diamonds (♦), hearts (♥), and spades (♠). When you create your character's deck, associate each suit to a different damage type among air, earth, fire, and ice.
- ♦ For each suit, the deck contains 7 cards with values 1 to 7.

The simplest approach is to use a poker deck (removing face cards and cards numbered 8 to 10), but you can also use minor arcana from tarot, cards from collectible card games, and much more. Just make sure the combinations are easy to identify.

- ♦ When a conflict begins, shuffle all 30 cards in your deck and place it face down in front of yourself, then draw 5 cards to form your starting hand.
- ♦ If you need to draw cards and your deck doesn't have enough, draw as many as you can, shuffle your discard pile into the deck, place it face down, then keep drawing.
- ♦ A When you draw cards, you draw them from your deck and add them to your hand. Normally only you can see your hand, but you can show it to others if you so wish.
- ♦ When you discard cards, you do so from your hand and place them face up into your discard pile, in whatever order you prefer. The order of cards in your discard pile cannot be modified, but anyone may look at them.

Your deck, your hand, and your discard pile (as well as any Skills and effects related to them) are only available during conflict scenes; at the end of each conflict, shuffle all 30 cards back into your deck and put it aside.

RESOLVING A SET

To produce a given effect, a set must match its requirements exactly (for instance, resolving a set of 5 cards with the same value will not match the requirements of Jackpot; it has to be composed of exactly 4 cards).

When you resolve a set that includes jokers, you choose their suit and value (1 to 7).

If a set matches the requirements of two or more effects, you must choose and apply only one of those effects.

If you use a classic poker deck, the recommended suit types are: air (♦), earth (♣), fire (♥), and ice (♠).

EFFECT	SET REQUIREMENTS
Note: effects Blinding Flush, Double Trouble, and Magic Flush deal 10 extra damage if you are level 20 or higher, or 20 extra damage if you are level 40 or higher.
Jackpot	4 cards of the same value, none of which is a joker
Any Player Character who has surrendered but is still narratively present on the scene regains consciousness (this does not cancel the effects of their Surrender); then, you and every ally you can see recover 777 Hit Points and 777 Mind Points.
Magic Flush	4 cards of consecutive values and of the same suit
You deal damage equal to [25 + the total value of the resolved cards] to every enemy you can see. The type of this damage matches the suit of the resolved cards.
Blinding Flush	4 cards of consecutive values
You deal damage equal to [15 + the total value of the resolved cards] to every enemy you can see. The type of this damage is light if the highest value among those cards is even , or dark if that value is odd .
Full Status	3 cards of the same value + 2 cards of the same value
Choose two status effects among dazed , shaken , slow , and weak . If [the highest value among resolved cards] is even , you and every ally you can see recover from the chosen status effects; if odd , every enemy you can see suffers them.
Triple Support	3 cards of the same value
You and every ally you can see recover an amount of Hit Points equal to [the total value of the resolved cards, multiplied by 3] .
Double Trouble	2 cards of the same value + 2 cards of the same value
You deal damage equal to [10 + the highest value among resolved cards] to each of up to two different enemies you can see. The type of this damage is one of your choice among those matching the suits of the resolved cards.
Magic Pair	2 cards of the same value
You perform a free attack with a weapon you have equipped. If this attack deals damage, choose a suit among those of the resolved cards; all damage dealt by the attack becomes of the type matching that suit .

NEW HEROIC SKILLS

BLACK & WHITE

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Ace of Cards, Darkblade, Entropist, and Spiritist.

When you resolve the Double Trouble effect, you may have all of its damage become light or dark (instead of being of a type matching the suits of the resolved cards).

Additionally, as long as there is a joker in your discard pile, all damage dealt by your Blinding Flush, Double Trouble, and Magic Flush effects ignores Immunities and Resistances.

CARD VANGUARD

Requirements: you must have mastered the Ace of Cards Class.

When you discard cards due to the Magic Cards Skill, you may choose 1 of them and place it face down in front of you as a vanguard card instead of putting it into your discard pile. You may only do so if you have two or fewer vanguard cards in play.

When a source deals damage to you and/or one or more allies you can see, you may reveal one of your vanguard cards in play. If you do and that card is a joker or its suit matches the damage type dealt by that source, you and every ally you can see gain Resistance to that damage type until the end of the current turn; then, put the revealed vanguard card on top of your discard pile, and it stops being a vanguard card.

You may look at your vanguard cards at any time. At the end of each conflict, if you have one or more vanguard cards in play, shuffle them back into your deck.

DUEL MASTER

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Ace of Cards, Fury, Rogue, Sharpshooter, and Weaponmaster.

When you resolve the Magic Pair effect, if you attack with a weapon belonging to the arcane, dagger, firearm, sword, or thrown Category, you deal extra damage equal to 【the common value of the resolved cards】 and regain an amount of Mind Points equal to 【twice the common value of the resolved cards】. For instance, resolving a pair of 5s will allow you to deal 5 extra damage and regain 10 Mind Points.

FORBIDDEN RITE

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Ace of Cards and Arcanist, and you must have acquired 3 Skill Levels in the Magic Cards Skill.

After you discard cards due to the Magic Cards Skill, if at least one of those cards is a joker, you may choose any number of non-joker cards in your discard pile and shuffle them into your deck.

You also add the following effect to your list of sets:

EFFECT

SET REQUIREMENTS

Forbidden Monarch

4 cards of the same value, none of which is a joker + 1 joker

You deal damage 777 damage to every enemy you can see; the type of this damage is light if [the common value of the 4 cards] is even, or dark if that value is odd.

If there is a joker in your discard pile, the damage dealt by this effect ignores Immunities and Resistances.

NECROMANCER

ALSO: Grave Queen, Reanimator, Vampire

*We are at our most beautiful
when we are vulnerable.*

The arts of soul manipulation have seen a wide variety of uses, but few will strike an instinctual fear in the hearts of people like Necromancy.

Necromancers reap spiritual energy moments before death, when it's at its brightest. This precious power can then be used to fuel their control over the balance of life and death, or even to inhabit a corpse so that it moves again. Yet, as if to mock their dark efforts, the true resurrection of a lost one remains a mirage...

- ◆ Who taught you in the ways of necromancy? Are they living or (un)dead?
- ◆ Your powers act against the natural soul cycle. How do you feel about this?
- ◆ Are you cold and grim, or decadent and sardonic?
- ◆ Who have you lost? Who would you resurrect, given the power to do so?

NECROMANCER FREE BENEFITS

- ◆ Permanently increase your maximum Hit Points or Mind Points by 5 (your choice).

NECROMANCER CARDS SKILLS

BEYOND THE REALMS OF DEATH

[+5]

After another creature you can see loses Hit Points, if they are in Crisis and are not undead, you gain 1 Grave Point. You may never have more than [SL + 1] Grave Points. When you are reduced to 0 Hit Points, you lose all Grave Points; then, if you lost at least 1 Grave Point this way and this is the first time you are reduced to 0 HP during this scene, your current Hit Points instead become equal to [SL, multiplied by the amount of Grave Points you lost this way].

CHILDREN OF THE GRAVE

You can always communicate with undead creatures. Once per scene, you may ask an undead a single question. They are compelled to answer truthfully.

FEAR IS THE KEY

[+5]

After you cause one or more enemies to lose Hit Points, if you have acquired the Beyond the Realms of Death Skill and at least one of them is suffering from shaken and/or weak, you gain 1 Grave Point and recover [SL × 2] Mind Points.

FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS

When you deal damage to one or more enemies with a spell, you may spend 1 Grave Point. If you do, choose one option: choose one of those enemies, and the spell deals extra damage equal to [SL + the number of status effects the chosen enemy is suffering from]; or each of those enemies suffers shaken after the effects of the spell are resolved.

RONDO OF NIGHTMARE

When you cast an offensive spell (⚡) with a target of "One creature", you may spend 2 Grave Points to have its target become "Every creature present on the scene" (perform a single Magic Check and compare it to the Magic Defense of each target). If you do, all damage dealt by the spell becomes dark and its type cannot change.

NEW HEROIC SKILLS

BIRTH OF THE CRUEL

Requirements: you must have mastered the Necromancer Class.

When a non-Villain NPC you can see that belongs to the beast, humanoid, monster, or plant Species dies, you may spend 2 Grave Points and reduce your maximum Hit Points and Mind Points by an amount equal to that NPC's level. If you do, their corpse becomes a minion that obeys your telepathic commands:

- ♦ Its Species becomes undead and it receives all undead rules (see page 305 of the Core Rulebook). The new Affinities to dark, light, and poison damage overwrite any preexisting Affinity, but the original Species' rules are otherwise maintained.
- ♦ Its Rank becomes soldier. If the original creature was an élite or champion, the GM must reduce the minion's HP and MP accordingly (Skills are maintained).
- ♦ The newly created minion is a completely new creature and has full HP, full MP, and no status effects. It retains the original creature's equipment (if any).
- ♦ Your minion takes its own turn during conflicts, and the Game Master must count it as an additional Player Character when designing a conflict.
- ♦ When you rest, your minion also gains the full benefits of resting.
- ♦ If your minion is reduced to 0 Hit Points, if you are more than 1 travel day away from it, or if you die or fall unconscious, it is immediately destroyed.
- ♦ You may also destroy your minion at any time, but during a conflict scene you can only do so on your turn, while no other effect is being resolved. If you want to create a new minion, you must first destroy the current one.
- ♦ If your minion is destroyed, your maximum HP and MP scores return to normal.

HARVESTER OF SORROW

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Entropist and Necromancer, and must have learned both the Drain Spirit and Drain Vigor spells.

When you cast the Drain Spirit or Drain Vigor spells, the amount of Mind Points or Hit Points you recover is equal to the MP or HP loss suffered by the target, respectively (instead of being halved).

Additionally, the amount of Mind Point loss caused by Drain Spirit spells you cast is increased by 5 if you are level 20 or higher, or by 10 if you are level 40 or higher.

PULSE OF THE MAGGOTS

Requirements: you must have mastered the Necromancer Class.

As long as you have at least 1 Grave Point, you gain Immunity to dark and poison damage, Resistance to physical damage, and Vulnerability to light damage. These Affinities take precedence over any other effect, and cannot be altered in any way as long as you have at least 1 Grave Point.

ABOUT THIS CONTENT

This special Class was designed for Halloween 2022. It is unique in terms of both narrative implications and abilities, so make sure to discuss whether it would be a good fit for your campaign during character creation (especially its relation with the concepts of death, souls, and the heroic premise surrounding the Player Characters).

The Necromancer Skill's names were inspired by the following songs: Beyond the Realms of Death (Judas Priest), Birth of the Cruel (Slipknot), Children of the Grave (Black Sabbath), Fear is the Key (Iron Maiden), For Whom the Bell Tolls (Metallica), Harvester of Sorrow (Metallica), Pulse of the Maggots (Slipknot), Rondo of Nightmare (Babymetal).

HALLOWEEN QUIRKS

In the depths between worlds and in remote lands, there are places dark and cursed, dominions contended between demon princes, gothic cities untouched by the sun, and looming castles where vampire queens and powerful monsters dwell.

Our heroes come from these places, and while they resemble mocking parodies of classic monsters and adversaries from horror and pop culture, heroes they remain: they have a kind heart and a strong sense of justice.

This special Halloween content offers a list of unique Quirks that allow you to play campaigns focused around a cast of "fake villains", where each Player Character is a parody of a monstrous or evil creature (such as a vampire, a zombie, a monstrous experiment, a witch, or a demon).

Amongst the main inspirations are the Disgaea and The Witch and the Hundred Knight videogame series (by Nippon Ichi Software), Makai Kingdom (also by Nippon Ichi Software), and Trillion: God of Destruction (by Compile Heart).

The protagonists of these stories act in the search of a balance between light and darkness, between rationality and instinct, in opposition to Villains who embrace one of the two extremes (such as an archangel ready to exterminate those who violate his laws, or an ancestral demon who wishes to rule the entire universe).

In short, sometimes you need a monster to stop a true Villain, and creatures from hell are capable of good just as angels are capable of evil!

QUIRKS? WHAT ARE THOSE?

Quirks are an optional advanced rule first introduced within the Fabula Ultima Atlases: they provide narrative and mechanical depth for Player Characters.

- ◆ A Player Character may only ever have one Quirk.
- ◆ If you use Quirks in your game, it is strongly suggested that each Player Character begins play with one. Additionally, no two characters in the same group should have identical Quirks.
- ◆ On average, a group of Player Characters with access to Quirks will be able to tackle more challenging situations than what would be normal for their level.
- ◆ If it makes sense in the story, a character may lose their current Quirk and gain a different one — discuss this with the group.

USING QUIRKS IN YOUR GAME

Quirks should be seen as a mechanical and narrative reinforcement of each Player Character's unique nature. Keep the following in mind:

- ♦ Quirks shape the game. Even the less impactful Quirk is a powerful statement about your character and their role in the story. Specifically, these Quirks turn each Player Character into a caricature inspired by creatures and monster of pop culture: they grant special powers while providing tips and questions you can draw inspiration from to make sure these characters remain heroes of good... although some of them might indeed hide a terrible truth.
- ♦ Freedom of choice. You don't need a Quirk for your character concept to be valid. If your Identity is "Former Demon Queen", you shouldn't feel forced to pick Overthrown Monarch for that Identity to be relevant to the story.
- ♦ How to use Quirks. These options should be used to bring interesting situations into play, to give your character unique issues and problems to confront, and to provide additional mechanical support for their Traits.
- ♦ How not to use Quirks. These options should never be used to make your character stronger than the rest of the group, to steal the spotlight, or to bring sensitive topics that make others uncomfortable into play.

FALLEN ANGEL

You once dwelled among celestial spheres, basking in the glory of light... but now, you find yourself in this realm of monsters and darkness. Are you here for atonement, to bring light among shadows, or to spy on those who conspire against Heaven? Since your arrival, which of your prejudices were put to the test? Which other character have you begun experiencing unexpected feelings towards?

You gain Resistance to dark and light damage.

Choose an option: you gain a rare item worth 1000 zenit or less; or you learn a single Spiritist spell of your choice; or you permanently increase your Mind Points by 10.

Once per session (approximately four hours of play), the Game Master can give you 1 Fabula Point to introduce unexpected complications caused by your angelic nature (for instance, some creatures or artifacts could react in strange ways to your presence, or you might draw the ire of infernal creatures).

MONSTER GANG

There are demon overlords; there are aeons-old mummies, powerful vampires, and even fallen angels; there are less notorious fiends, but still, respected. And then there's a bunch of... you. You're not that great, honestly, and all look kinda... samey? But there's a real LOT of you. Why are you at the bottom of the food chain? What's your common cause? Who is your leader, and how can someone easily tell them apart?

Your Player Character is not a single entity, but rather a group of monsters led by a leader who usually speaks for everyone. You're still treated as a single creature and follow all the normal rules, with some exceptions:

- ♦ Hit Points: when you lose HP, describe how members of the gang are defeated or slain; when you recover them, describe how they rejoin the battle or gather new recruits. When you Surrender, you may describe the leader's death and explain which member of the gang replaces them; if you Sacrifice yourself, the gang will disband forever, but shall be remembered with great respect.
- ♦ All for One: you deal 5 extra damage to enemies that aren't swarms (see Core Rulebook, page 297).
- ♦ One for All: you gain Resistance to damage of all types dealt by sources that deal damage only to you, but you gain Vulnerability to damage of all types dealt by sources that deal damage to three or more creatures at once. Damage with no type ignores these Affinities as normal.

NETHER DELINQUENT

You attend the prestigious Infernal Academy, where the most promising evil minds are nurtured in an atmosphere of constant chaos. However, you represent a dreadful stain on the institution's reputation: you are... good. Detestably kind, well-mannered, you show up to lessons on time and with your homework done. Why are you like this? Do you simply wish to stand out from the other students, or did you make a promise to someone? What dark side of your personality have you kept hidden?

After you rest in a location, choose one option: describe how you made it better (such as picking up garbage in the park, helping an old lady or joining a charity campaign) and obtain 1d6 Delinquency Points; or describe how you indulge in a moment of selfishness, gain 1 Fabula Point and lose all accumulated Delinquency Points.

You deal extra damage to Villains equal to your current Delinquency Points, and are dealt extra damage by Villains equal to your current Delinquency Points.

When you cause one or more allies to recover Hit Points and/or Mind Points, each of those allies recovers additional Hit Points and/or Mind Points equal to your current Delinquency Points, respectively.

At the end of each session (approximately four hours of play), if you have 10 or more Delinquency Points, you receive a Demerit and lose all accumulated Delinquency Points; then, if you have received 3 or more total Demerits, you are expelled from the Academy: you lose this Quirk, gain 3 Fabula Points, and receive a Heroic Skill of your choice (you may even choose a Heroic Skill whose requirements you do not satisfy, unless they include a Skill you don't have). This includes choosing a Heroic Skill for a Class you do not have.

HUH... IS THAT ALL?

Definitely not! Many Quirks found inside Fabula Ultima's supplemental and playtest materials would fit a campaign in which misunderstood freaks and insecure demon princesses save the world from those who conceal ruthless cruelty behind an angelic mask.

Among the most appropriate we recommend: Arboreal, Cursed, Fettered Heart, From a Distant World, Fugitive Experiment, Inventor Prodigy, Revenant, Robot, Ruinbringer, and The Beast Who Spoke (these can be found within the High Fantasy and Techno Fantasy Atlases).

OVERTHROWN MONARCH

You were destined to inherit the role of Demon Monarch, but things didn't go as planned. More specifically, it looks like there's at least a dozen self-proclaimed heirs, almost all of them stronger and more influential than you are. How do you intend to reclaim your throne? Who stayed at your side, and who betrayed you? Is anyone aware of your secret weakness? How does said weakness represent your insecurities?

You deal 5 extra damage to soldier-rank enemies. Additionally, when you perform an Opposed Check against an elite or champion-rank enemy, you trigger a critical success if both dice show the same number (and it is not a fumble).

However, you possess a secret weakness: decide what it is together with your group, and connect it to a past event your character is ashamed of or has yet to confront, process, and overcome.

Examples: classical music (because your piano teacher was far too strict); sunlight (because everyone mocked you due to your pale complexion); maternal figures (because you have always felt you couldn't live up to your mother, the Queen).

Whenever you fail a Check while your secret weakness is present on the scene, you must automatically reveal it to everyone around you, and treat both dice as if they showed a value of 1, thus triggering a fumble (this also means the dice cannot be rerolled and you will immediately gain 1 Fabula Point).

If you confront and process the event at the root of your secret weakness, you lose the penalty to Checks described above; additionally, from now on the strength of your Bonds is always treated as being 1 point higher (for instance, a Bond with three emotions will have a strength of 4).

If you're ever unsure how to apply the rules of this Quirk, it is you who always has final say. Be as honest and sincere as you can.

SCION OF WITCHCRAFT

You belong to an ancient lineage of witches, tied to a particular power source and regarded with fear and suspicion by humans. How does your lineage manifest in you? What trouble did it cause? Who wishes to exploit your power?

Choose one damage type among air, bolt, dark, earth, fire, ice, and poison. You gain Absorption to the chosen damage type; additionally, whenever you deal damage of a type other than physical, that damage automatically becomes of the chosen type and its damage type cannot be changed nor lost (this effect has priority over any other rule in the game). However, you also gain Vulnerability to a different damage type based on the one you have chosen (respectively bolt, earth, light, air, ice, fire, and fire). You also gain the ability to perform Rituals of the Ritualism discipline; additionally, you may use Ritualism to manipulate the element corresponding to the chosen damage type, provided it is present on the scene (respectively air, electricity, darkness and shadows, ground and rock, fire, ice and water, and poisonous or rotting matter).

STUBBORN SKEPTIC

This tale of monsters, demons, and magicks sounds like videogame nonsense. You're probably dreaming, or someone hypnotized you. Maybe it's a prank! Surely it won't turn out you're a wandering soul from Purgatory, or that you stumbled into a magical portal. You gotta admit though, your memories are a fair bit jumbled.

If you are about to receive the effects of an attack, a spell, a Skill, or any other game effect controlled by another creature (be it a beneficial effect, or a negative effect), you must roll 1d6:

- ♦ 1-4: the effects apply as normal, and you gain 1 Suspicion Point.
- ♦ 5-6: you disbelieve the effects, and thus do not receive them.

At the end of each session (approximately four hours of play), before assigning XP, roll 2d20. If you roll equal to or lower than your current character level, you gain 1 Suspicion Point. Then, if you have 20 or more Suspicion Points, you remember how you arrived here and the Game Master chooses one option: you remember a key clue regarding a threat that is present in your world; or you remember the existence of a new threat and receive a key clue about it.

When you regain your memories, a strange power awakens within you: you lose this Quirk and receive a Heroic Skill of your choice (you may even choose a Heroic Skill whose requirements you do not satisfy, unless they include a Skill you don't have). This includes choosing a Heroic Skill for a Class you do not have.

SUPERBOSS (SUPPOSEDLY)

You can transform into a colossus capable of turning entire cities to ash and strike terror in the hearts of all gamers. Or at least, that's what you claim. Where do you come from? What do your transformations look like? Which aspect of your Final Form™ embarrasses you to the point you can't ever bring yourself to use it?

When you enter Crisis for the first time during a conflict scene, you may take on your Second Form™ until the end of the scene. While in your Second Form™, you gain all of the following benefits:

- ◆ Your attacks gain the multi (2) property.
- ◆ On your turn, you treat all HP and MP costs as being reduced by 5 (minimum 0).

When you fall to 0 Hit Points, if you are in your Second Form™ and have one or more Bonds with a strength of 3 or higher, you may erase 2 emotions from one of those Bonds. If you do, you recover 999 Hit Points and 999 Mind Points and enter your Final Form™ until the end of the scene. While in your Final Form™, you keep all benefits of your Second Form™, as well as the following benefits and penalties:

- ◆ You gain a +4 bonus to Opposed Checks based on brute force, and you deal 5 extra damage to creatures belonging to the humanoid and demon species.
- ◆ If you fall to 0 Hit Points again and can Sacrifice yourself, you must do so.

THE PROMISE THAT BINDS YOU

You were once an entity of untold power. But you made a promise: you shall never again use your true strength. Who did you give your word to? Are they still alive? What terrible tragedy were you unable to prevent due to this promise?

You may only choose this Quirk if your character's Theme is Guilt or Duty, and your Theme cannot change as long as you still have this Quirk.

You permanently increase your maximum Hit Points and maximum Mind Points by 5, and also learn a spell of your choice among Cursed Breath, Life Theft, and Mind Theft (Core Rulebook, page 310; choose [INS + WLP] or [MIG + WLP] for the Magic Check and customize the name, damage type and/or status effect as instructed).

When you deal damage to one or more creatures, you may choose to break your promise: you deal exactly 999 damage to each of them and have that damage ignore Resistance, Immunity, and Absorption. If one or more Villains are among those creatures, they are no longer Villains and lose all Ultima Points (you choose their fate, as per the normal NPC rules). Once you break your promise, your Player Character becomes a Supreme Villain and you create a new character.

(UN?)FAITHFUL SERVANT

You are the right hand to another character, someone who could be destined to great things but is in dire need of your help, as well as showing a frequent lack of common sense. Which promise, debt, or oath binds you? What is your disposition towards them? What do you think is their most significant flaw? Have you ever thought you might be the one who deserves that spot? What secret have you kept from them?

When you gain this Quirk, choose another Player Character: that character becomes your liege. You both create a Bond towards each other; your Bond has one emotion chosen between loyalty and mistrust, and your liege's Bond towards you has one emotion chosen among admiration, inferiority, or mistrust.

Make sure whoever controls your liege agrees to this relationship and is looking forward to exploring the unique nature of this Quirk with you.

When your liege performs a Check, if you are present on the scene, you may offer your help: you will use the rules for Group Checks (Core Rulebook, page 50), but you automatically succeed on your Support Check. If this happens during a conflict scene, you do not lose your turn in the current round (thus ignoring the limitations in the rules for Teamwork, on page 76 of the Core Rulebook).

Whenever your liege accepts your help in a Group Check, you gain 1 Reliance Points. At the end of each session (approximately four hours of play), before assigning XP, roll 2d20. If you roll equal to or lower than your current character level, you gain 1 Reliance Point. Then, if you have 20 or more Reliance Points, choose one of the following options:

- ♦ Challenge: it is now time to put your liege to the test. Together with the Player who controls the liege, narrate a duel, a challenge or similar competition in which your liege must prove they do not need your help, and they succeed. Then, you lose this Quirk and gain a Heroic Skill of your choice (you may even choose a Heroic Skill whose requirements you do not satisfy, unless they include a Skill you don't have).
- ♦ Betrayal: the hour is dark, and you show your true colors. Together with the Player who controls your liege, narrate your betrayal and agree on an appropriate consequence (such as the loss of an important object, the resurrection of a terrifying foe, or a change of Theme for your liege). Then, your Player Character becomes a minor or major Villain (Game Master's choice) and you create a new character.

HALLOWEEN HEROIC SKILLS

We welcome you into a new special Halloween content! This time it's a list of never-before-seen Heroic Skills, designed for characters who rely on somewhat underhanded tactics, occult and mysterious powers, or on techniques that grant sacred protection or exorcism.

To be clear, none of these Skills imply a specific morality for your character: even options such as It Lives! or Impaler Dragon simply owe their names to pop culture references and aim to be evocative. S-seriously, you can tell the townsfolk to drop the torches and pitchforks. R-really. Uhm... somebody help?

The Heroic Skills in the list below are added to those in the Core Rulebook (see page 232). As usual, these are "semi-official" options, and as such the entire group needs to agree on using them. We sincerely hope they will inspire you!

ANATOMIST

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Fury, Loremaster, Sharpshooter and Weaponmaster, and have acquired the Knowledge is Power Skill.

Whenever you acquire this Heroic Skill, choose two Species among beast, construct, demon, elemental, monster, plant, and undead.

When you deal damage to a creature belonging to the humanoid Species or to a Species you have chosen for this Heroic Skill, you may choose one option: you deal 5 extra damage to that creature; or that creature becomes reeling until the end of the scene. When a reeling creature recovers Hit Points and/or Mind Points, instead that creature recovers half the normal amount of HP and/or MP and is no longer reeling.

This Heroic Skill can be acquired up to three times.

ARCANE SACRIFICE

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Arcanist and Guardian.

Once per scene, when you and/or one or more allies you can see are reduced to 0 Hit Points, if you are merged with an Arcanum, you may have all creatures that would be reduced to 0 Hit Points be reduced to exactly 1 Hit Point instead. If you do, you must immediately dismiss that Arcanum (without applying any dismiss effect), and cannot summon that same Arcanum again until the end of the scene.

BROKEN WING TACTIC

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Commander and Guardian.

After an enemy you can see performs an Accuracy Check or a Magic Check for an offensive spell (⚡) on their turn during a conflict, you may grant them a +3 bonus to the Result of the Check. If you do, choose one option: you and every ally that is able to hear you gain Resistance to all damage types until the end of this turn; or you and every ally that is able to hear you deal 5 extra damage until the end of this turn. Once you use this Skill, you cannot use it again until the start of your next turn.

FLOW OF YIN AND YANG

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Dancer, Elementalist, Esper, and Invoker.

When you deal dark, earth, ice, or physical damage for the first time during a turn, you gain 1 Yin Point and, if you have at least 1 Yang Point, you deal 5 extra damage.

When you deal air, bolt, fire, or light damage for the first time during a turn, you gain 1 Yang Point and, if you have at least 1 Yin Point, you deal 5 extra damage.

At the end of your turn, if you have 3 or more Yin and/or Yang points and have at least 1 point of each type, you lose all Yin and Yang Points and perform one of the following effects based on the points you lost (perform both in case of a tie):

- ♦ Yin majority: every enemy present on the scene loses an amount of Mind Points equal to [half your level].
- ♦ Yang majority: one creature you can see that is present on the scene recovers an amount of Mind Points equal to [your level].

You may gain and use Yin and Yang Points only during conflicts, and you lose all your Yin and Yang Points at the end of each scene.

HUNTER'S TRICK

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Sharpshooter and Weaponmaster.

When you transform a transforming custom weapon on your turn, choose one option: if you have not performed any attacks during this turn, the next attack you perform with this weapon during this turn deals 5 extra damage; or if you have hit one or more creatures with an attack using this weapon during this turn, you recover 5 Hit Points and 5 Mind Points.

GREAT CAULDRON'S SECRET

Requirements: you must have mastered the Tinkerer Class, and have acquired the superior alchemy benefit from the Gadgets Skill.

When you create a potion via alchemy, you may treat the die assigned to "target" as showing a value of 13 or 17 (even if that die shows a different number).

IMPALER DRAGON

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Commander and Darkblade, and have acquired the Charging Cavalry and Shadow Strike Skills.

When you use the Shadow Strike Skill, you may treat your High Roll as being equal to 0 when determining damage dealt by this attack. If you do, after the effects granted by Shadow Strike are resolved, you may immediately perform the Charging Cavalry Skill for free (paying the appropriate MP cost).

IT LIVES!

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Tinkerer and Wayfarer, and have acquired the Faithful Companion (construct Species) and Visionary Skills.

Your companion's base Affinity towards bolt damage is replaced with Absorption, and their maximum Hit Point score is increased by an amount equal to 【twice your Skill Level in Visionary】.

When your companion deals damage, if they have no weapons equipped, they deal extra damage equal to 【your Skill Level in Visionary】.

LIKE AN OPEN BOOK

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Esper, Loremaster and Rogue, and have acquired the Soul Steal Skill.

After you successfully use the Soul Steal Skill against one or more enemies, you may choose one of them. If you do, you immediately perform the Study action for free against that enemy: treat the Result and High Roll of this Open Check as being equal to the Result and High Roll of the Check you performed for Soul Steal (do not roll dice for this Open Check).

When you deal damage to an elite or champion-rank enemy, if you stole that enemy's soul treasure during this scene, you deal extra damage equal to [your Skill Level in Soul Steal] to that enemy.

NETHER SLASH

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Darkblade, Elementalist and Pilot, and have acquired the Shadow Strike Skill.

When you use the Shadow Strike Skill, you may choose fire or ice. If you do, all damage dealt by this attack becomes of the chosen type instead of dark (its damage type cannot change, as usual), and you gain Resistance to the damage type you did not choose until the start of your next turn.

When you perform a free attack with a melee weapon as part of the Shadow Strike Skill, the attack may target enemies that cannot be targeted by melee attacks.

OFUDA MASTERY

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Arcanist, Merchant, Symbolist and Spiritist, and have acquired the Symbolism Skill.

When you use the Symbolism Skill during a conflict, you may spend 20 Mind Points to ignore the Skill's normal cost in Inventory Points.

When you perform a free attack with a melee weapon as part of the Symbolism Skill, the attack may target enemies that cannot be targeted by melee attacks

PHAGOMAGUS

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Chimerist, Entropist, Gourmet and Mutant.

When you cast the Dispel spell, its MP cost becomes " $10 \times T$ " and its target becomes "Up to three creatures".

When you cause one or more enemies to stop being affected by one or more spells with a duration of "Scene", choose one option: you recover 20 Mind Points for each different spell whose effects ended on at least one of those enemies this way; or for each different spell whose effects ended on at least one of those enemies this way, apply a copy of that spell on yourself (if a spell allowed for choices upon casting it, you must retain the same choices that were made for this casting of the spell). This copying effect does not require actions, Mind Points, or Checks, and is not treated as "casting a spell".

SYMBIOTIC ROOTS

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Chimerist, Floralist, Mutant and Wayfarer, and have acquired the Faithful Companion (plant Species) Skill.

When you recover Hit Points, you may choose to recover only half of that amount; if you do, your companion recovers that many Hit Points.

At the end of your turn during a conflict, if your companion's current Hit Points are equal to or higher than their maximum Hit Points and your companion has not performed actions or attacks during this turn, you may have your companion perform a free attack with one of their basic attacks.

WITCHVOICE

Requirements: you must have mastered one or more Classes among Chanter and Orator.

After you sing a haunting verse, or after you succeed on an Opposed Check for your Condemn Skill, you may choose one enemy among the targets of that verse or Skill. If you do, choose one status effect that enemy is currently suffering from: that enemy becomes bewitched until the start of your next turn or until they recover from the chosen status effect. Enemies you have bewitched must include you among the targets of their attacks and offensive spells (⚡), if able.

NEW SAMPLE ARCANa

In Fabula Ultima, the Arcanist Class (see Core Rulebook, page 176) allows characters to shape their own soul into partially manifesting the power of an Arcanum: a legendary entity whose memory resides among the stars or within the stream of souls, and whose favor may be obtained by proving one's affinity for their domains.

This bonus content offers ten new sample Arcana (with a revamped layout!). You can directly use them in your campaigns, or more importantly draw inspiration from their abilities when designing custom Arcana.

These Arcana contain homages and references to many entities and symbols from mythologies, folklores, and literary works across the world. They are but a small example of how multicultural imagery and inspirations can bring more depth and nuance to a Fabula Ultima campaign. With that being said, we have purposefully refrained from referencing any major figures from currently practised faiths and cults, with the aim of avoiding insensitive or reductive portrayals.

In design terms, these Arcana place greater emphasis on merge rather than dismiss benefits, exploring more unique gameplay styles compared to the options provided by the Core Rulebook, which were intentionally left simpler and more "vanilla".

We hope you like them, and that they encourage you to experiment on your own!

AIRMID

Protector of apothecaries and teacher of purifying arts.

Domains: exorcism, healing, plants.

MERGE

HERBALIST'S FAVOR

When you summon this Arcanum, you gain 3 Medicine Points. When this Arcanum is dismissed, you lose all Medicine Points.

Once per turn during a conflict, you may perform the Skill action and spend 1 Medicine Point to choose one ally you can see. If you do, that ally recovers an amount of Hit Points equal to your Crisis score and recovers from a single status effect of your choice.

DISMISS

CLEANSING ROOTS

You deal 20 earth damage to every enemy you can see, or 30 earth damage if you had no Medicine Points left when you dismiss this Arcanum. Then, if one or more enemies that lost Hit Points this way are affected by one or more spells with a duration of "Scene", they stop being affected by those spells.

BAIHU

The white tiger of the West, ruling over battle and beasts.

Domains: beasts, metal, wind.

MERGE

PRESENCE OF THE GREAT TIGER

When you deal damage, you may change its type to air or physical.

When you deal damage for the first time on your turn during a conflict, as long as that damage is air or physical and your Defense score is equal to or higher than 12, you deal 5 extra damage and that damage ignores Resistances.

DISMISS

WIND AND STEEL

Choose one option: you deal 30 air damage to every enemy you can see; or until the end of the current scene, you and every ally present on the scene may treat your Defense score as being equal to 12 (you may use the normal score if better). This score increases to 13 if you are level 20 or higher, or to 14 if you are level 40 or higher.

DAMOCLES

The ghastly sword, looming over tyrants.

Domains: dread, hesitation, punishment.

MERGE

IMPENDING JUDGMENT

You gain Resistance to dark and light damage.

Once per turn during a conflict, you may perform the Skill action to choose one enemy you can see and choose one action among the following: Attack, Guard, Objective, and Spell. If you do, until the start of your next turn that enemy loses 10 Hit Points whenever they perform the chosen action (after the action has been resolved). This amount increases to 20 Hit Points if you are level 30 or higher.

DISMISS

RAIN OF SWORDS

You deal 30 light damage to every enemy you can see. Each creature that loses Hit Points due to this damage suffers shaken.

FAFNIR

The invulnerable cthonic dragon, who guards legendary treasures.

Domains: fire, protection, wealth.

MERGE

SCALES OF THE ARDENT SOVEREIGN

You gain Resistance to fire damage. Additionally, as long as you are not in Crisis, you also gain Resistance to physical damage.

All damage you deal becomes fire, its type cannot change, and it ignores Resistances; as long as you are in Crisis, it also ignores Immunities.

When you deal damage to only one creature with a spell, you deal 10 extra damage.

DISMISS

MOLTEN GOLD

You deal 20 fire damage to every enemy you can see, or 30 fire damage if you are in Crisis; this damage ignores Immunities and Resistances. Then, you and every ally present on the scene regain 2 Inventory Points for every enemy reduced to 0 Hit Points by this damage.

HUGINN & MUNINN

The twin ravens, messengers and spies of the gods.

Domains: knowledge, memory, storms.

MERGE

WINGED MESSENGERS

You gain Resistance to air and bolt damage, and you are immune to dazed.

At the end of your turn during a conflict, you may choose one creature you can see. If you do, choose one option: the Game Master reveals one of that creature's Traits; or, the Game Master reveals that creature's Affinity to one damage type of your choice.

DISMISS

STORMBORN TWINS

Choose air or bolt. You deal 20 damage of the chosen type to one creature you can see; then, you deal 20 damage of the other type to one creature you can see (the same or a different one). Damage dealt by this effect ignores Resistances, and it ignores the Immunities of any creature you know two or more Traits of.

LADY HIGANBANA

The tearful spirit who mourns those fallen in battle.

Domains: death, isolation, melancholy.

MERGE

SCARLET BLOSSOMS

If you have acquired the Counterattack Skill (see Core Rulebook, page 219), it also applies to enemy ranged attacks.

During conflict scenes, as long as you are merged with this Arcanum and it is not your turn, your attacks deal 5 extra damage, or 10 extra damage if you are also in Crisis.

DISMISS

SEPULCHRAL SHROUD

You deal 40 dark damage to one creature you can see; damage dealt by this effect ignores Immunities and Resistances. If a creature loses Hit Points this way, they cannot recover Hit Points until the start of your next turn.

MANEKI-NEKO

The ever-grinning patron of gamblers.

Domains: coincidences, prosperity, unforeseen events.

MERGE

PAW SLAP

After you roll dice for a Magic Check or Accuracy Check, you may choose one of the numbers shown on those dice: that number becomes your meowgic nyamber and replaces any meowgic nyamber you previously obtained.

After a creature you can see rolls dice for a Check, if you have a meowgic nyamber, you may expend it to replace the number shown by one of those dice with that number. You cannot use this effect on a Check that generated a meowgic nyamber, and you cannot generate a meowgic nyamber with a Check you used this effect on.

When this Arcanum is dismissed, if you have a meowgic nyamber, you lose it.

DISMISS

COIN CASCADE

You deal 30 physical damage to every enemy you can see. If you lost a meowgic nyamber by dismissing this Arcanum, the type of this damage changes based on the number you lost: air (1 and 6), bolt (2 and 7), fire (3 and 8), ice (4 and 9), earth (5 and 10), dark (11 or higher).

MARCHOSIAS

The most courageous and loyal among fallen celestials.

Domains: fire, loyalty, vigor.

MERGE

GLYPHCLAWS

You are immune to shaken and weak.

Once per turn during a conflict, you may perform the Skill action to deal an amount of physical damage equal to [10 + twice the number of Heroic Skills you have acquired] to each of up to two enemies you can see. If you do and at least one of those enemies loses Hit Points due to this damage, you gain 1 Glyph Point.

When this Arcanum is dismissed, you lose all Glyph Points.

DISMISS

SEAL OF FIRE

You deal 30 fire damage to one enemy you can see; this damage ignores Immunities and Resistances. If you lost 3 or more Glyph Points by dismissing this Arcanum, choose one option for this effect: it deals 10 extra damage; or it deals damage to each of up to two enemies you can see (instead of only one enemy).

RANGDA

The powerful witch queen, teacher of dark arts.

Domains: medicine, poisons, witchcraft.

MERGE

HAUNTING DANCE

After you and/or one or more allies you can see lose Hit Points, you gain 1 Sorcery Point. All damage you deal becomes poison, its type cannot change, and you deal extra damage equal to your current Sorcery Points.

When this Arcanum is dismissed, you lose all Sorcery Points.

DISMISS

FEAST OF BODY AND SOUL

You deal an amount of poison damage equal to [the amount of Sorcery Points you lost by dismissing this Arcanum, multiplied by 5] to one enemy you can see. If this damage reduces that enemy to 0 Hit Points, you and every ally you can see recover an amount of HP and MP equal to that enemy's Crisis score.

TIAMAT

The Dragonmother, reigning over oceans and serpents.

Domains: chaos, saltwater, serpents.

MERGE

SUPREME SERPENT

You gain Resistance to ice damage.

When you deal damage, as long as that damage is ice, you deal 5 extra damage and all that damage ignores Resistances.

Once per turn during a conflict, you may perform the Skill action to perform a free attack with a weapon you have equipped. If you do, all damage dealt by the attack becomes ice, its type cannot change, and each creature that loses Hit Points due to it suffers slow.

DISMISS

TIDES OF AN ENDLESS OCEAN

Choose one option: fill 2 sections of every Clock present on the scene; or erase 2 sections of every Clock present on the scene; or you force every soldier-rank enemy present on the scene that is in Crisis and is not a Villain to immediately leave the scene. Once you use any of its options, this dismiss effect is no longer available until next dawn.

ADDITIONAL BOSSES

The first bonus content ever released for Fabula Ultima was Zuccaborg, the Arisen: not only was it additional example of a boss-tier adversary, but our first attempt at providing readers with a multi-part boss they could turn to for reference.

This was followed by two more bosses: Typhos, Boreal Queen (during the 2021 Winter Holidays) and Carmilla (2022 Halloween Bonus). No more bosses were released after this point; bonus contents focused more on Player Character options and alternate rules instead.

UPDATED AND ENRICHED

This section presents new and updated versions of the bosses mentioned above, in line with the standard profiles found within Fabula Ultima's Bestiary Vol. I. The profiles for Zuccaborg and Typhos are also accompanied by new illustrations from the hands of Richmond Montañano and Yitanran, partially based on the rough original sketches by Emanuele Galletto.

The mechanics and abilities of each boss were also slightly tweaked where it was deemed necessary, and tactical routines have been added.

Overall, whether you already knew the original form of these creatures or are encountering them for the first time here, we hope they will inspire you!

BEHIND THE SCENES

Each of the bosses presented in this section has its own story, although some take themselves far more seriously than others.

CARMILLA

Inspired by the vampire created by Sheridan Le Fanu in 1872, not to mention the Castlevania series, Carmilla is actually an ancient vampiric demon possessing the undead body of an unfortunate noblewoman. She has become the ageless ruler of Cairnstein Castle, a great fortress towering over the mountain pass between two nations. The idea was for Game Masters to introduce Carmilla as a threat or obstacle when the group crosses any mountainous border during the campaign, or potentially as a far more influential, long-term antagonist.

Together with Tragedia (from the High Fantasy Atlas), Carmilla was also among the first instances of a two-phase boss in our published contents.

TYPHOS, BOREAL QUEEN

This colossal draconic boss was initially written for the first Fabula Ultima campaign ever played during the 2020 pandemic. She originally had a slightly different name, and was connected to a Player Character whose latent Arcanist powers had just awakened: in the end, the story took a different direction and she never became part of it. Born in the ancient age when Arcana still roamed the world, Typhos was sealed within permafrost, where she slept for centuries: once freed, she would have begun hunting down the very descendants of those who imprisoned her.

Since that first campaign was first and foremost a “stress test” for the Fabula Ultima system, all Player Characters were both memorable and heavily optimized. This is reflected in Typhos herself, who features a few nasty gimmicks and can hit extremely hard for a level 20 boss. If you wish to include her in your own campaign, consider waiting until the Player Characters themselves are level 20... or spend some time thinking about interesting and thematic Surrender consequences!

ZUCCABORG, THE ARISEN

Originally designed in Italian (where “zucca” means “pumpkin”), this grotesque and somewhat comical boss was meant to be used by groups that decided to celebrate Halloween with Fabula Ultima, showcasing a variety of important mechanics:

- ♦ Zuccaborg is a single entity in the narrative, but is represented by a combination of three different profiles, allowing multi-target abilities to retain their effectiveness.
- ♦ The CPU (Central Pumpkin Unit) can regenerate destroyed limbs, but does so at the cost of Ultima Points, thus adding a new way to spend them.
- ♦ The various profiles belong to different species, setting an important precedent for bosses: splitting them into multiple parts can act as a tool for storytelling and better express their nature. In this case, the boss’s main body is considered undead as it hosts the soul of Dr. Zuccaborg; the two arms belong to the construct and plant species, respectively, highlighting the Doctor’s experiments on machinery as well as living beings.
- ♦ The profiles have various and often mirrored Affinities, ensuring the same approach isn’t always the perfect fit.

CARMILLA
